

In The Field

News for Victorian Vegetable Growers

27 Oct 2015

Growing Leaders Program

Applications are now open for the 2016 Growing Leaders – National Vegetable Industry Leadership Program.

Growing Leaders is a highly regarded program designed to develop personal, business and industry skills. The program was designed in consultation with vegetable industry people with their specific needs in mind.

The program encourages all sectors of the industry including growing, harvesting, processing, extension, exporters, importers, marketing and employees to register interest.

The program ensures that participants develop effective ways of handling conflict, improve communication, manage efficient meetings, build high performance teams, manage change and media awareness.

Graduates have applied their skills to a variety of related areas including regional network development, industry association boards, reference committees and effective business and workplace management.

The program is cost-free to levy payers and includes dinners with guest speakers, tours, industry functions and three residential sessions:

- May – 3 days
- August – 3 days (with AusVeg Convention)
- November – 3 days

Growing Leaders

The growing leaders program is funded by the National Vegetable Levy with funds matched by the Australian government.

Contact : Jill Briggs

02 6035 7284 or 0409 455 710

www.ruraltraininginitiatives.com.au

"In The Field" is published by VGA-Victoria
(Vegetable Growers' Association of Victoria Inc.)
PO Box 445,
Bay Street, Port Melbourne, Vic, 3207

Jointly funded by VGA-Victoria and DEPI Victoria

Editor: Ken Orr

T 03 9687 4707

F 03 9687 4723

M 0428 502 936

E ken.orr@vgavic.org.au

